

6th consortium meeting, January 9-11 in Kuala Lumpur

The 6th consortium meeting and final ICT-INOV project conference were organized on January 9 – 11, 2024 by the Universiti Malaya and Universiti Tenaga Nasional at Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

The meeting provided an opportunity to partners to collaborate towards the conclusion of project activities in the coming months. More specifically, partners collaborated on the conclusion and documentation of piloting and instructor training activities.

Partners

- focused on the generation of good practice guidelines that allow educators to maximize the benefits from the ICT-INOV digital learning intervention for building innovation skills.
- focused on dissemination and exploitation activities for the adoption of project outcomes after completion in the consortium and beyond.
- had the opportunity to visit both the University of Malaya and the University Tenaga Nasional, both of which are consortium partners.
- visited the Malaysian Design Council (MRM) and to experience innovation practices in Malaysia.
- were exposed to student work at the Universiti Malaya and Universiti Tenaga Nasional based on the ICT-INOV learning intervention and attended student project presentations.
- presented project results, including the ICT-INOV digital innovation labs, digital learning platform, and educational content to audiences of the higher education community in Kuala Lumpur for promoting project outcomes.

ICT-INOV project outcomes overview

ICT-INOV piloting in 69 courses

46 instructor training
events

19 ICT-INOV
multiplier events

with over 4200 students engaged in courses

where over 790 teachers took part in

with over 1400 participants

Join us

<http://ictinov-project.eu>

CBHE Project Ict-Inov

Partners

